

TO CONDUCT SERIES OF REVIVAL SERVICES

Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn.
Daughter of Salvation Army
Founder, Here Tomorrow.

Regarded by many as the most eloquent of a family famous for its orators, Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn, daughter of the late General Booth of the Salvation Army will begin a week of evangelistic services in Washington Sunday afternoon, when she will address a meeting at the First Congregational Church on "The Gospel as the Sure Foundation of Morals."

Mrs. Booth-Clibborn will allot eight days to revival services in the National Capital. She is touring the United States as a general evangelist not connected in any way with the Salvation Army. She is in charge of missions in France and Belgium and it is the funds for the support of these missions that all money collected on her tour of this country will go.

Mrs. Booth-Clibborn does not come under the auspices of any society, but seeks to aid all churches and other uplift societies in their work, making her individual character and a better moral environment. Mrs. Booth-Clibborn is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Victoria Booth-Clibborn, one of her ten children. Miss Booth-Clibborn, who is said to be almost as eloquent as her mother, is also aiding her mother on the tour of the United States and addresses public meetings as frequently as her parent. During their stay here Mrs. Booth-Clibborn and her daughter will make their headquarters at the Hotel on 1627 Nineteenth street northwest. Neither mother nor daughter make any charge for their services, but offerings are taken at each meeting they address for the gospel missions they are conducting in Europe.

The District W. C. T. U. will promote and conduct the meeting at the First Congregational Church on Sunday. This meeting will be open to men and women and will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the afternoon. On Sunday evening at 7:45 the evangelist will preach at Foundry Methodist Church on "The Gospel as the Sure Foundation of Morals." Monday forenoon she will speak at a union preachers' meeting in the Y. M. C. A. on "Womanhood in Continental Europe." Tuesday evening at 7:45 she preaches in Luther Memorial Church, Tuesday at 7:45 in Metropolitan Church, Wednesday evening she will preach in First Congregational Church on "The Battle for Purity in France and in the United States." Thursday at 7:45 o'clock at West Presbyterian Church in Georgetown.

On Friday she will, for the third time, preach in the First Congregational Church at a meeting open to all but promoted and conducted by the missions. Mrs. Harriet B. Monroe in charge. The theme will be "Rescue Work the World Over."

On Sunday afternoon, May 21, at 1:30 o'clock, she will speak at a union meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The meeting will be followed by a reception.

Entertainment to Raise Fund for Church Repairs

An entertainment will be held tonight at 8:30 at the Church of the Ascension, Twelfth street and Massachusetts avenue northwest, for the purpose of raising funds for necessary repairs on St. Thomas Church at Croome, Md. This parish and church, aside from the general interest taken in them, is remembered by all acquainted with the Episcopal denomination in Maryland as the home of Bishop Charles, the first Episcopal bishop consecrated in the United States.

The program is made up of musical numbers by members of the church, among whom are Miss Mary Sherier, J. M. Bowie, F. C. Schaefer, Miss Richie McLean, and Louis A. Potter, Jr.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK AT MONTREAL

Arrangements for the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church conference to be held at Montreal, N. C., during July and August, have recently been completed.

Many prominent speakers will attend and address the people assembled, and the last year's attendance of 8,000 is expected to be exceeded at this conference. They will be supervised by the Rev. Dr. Howard Agnew Johnston, S. C. Jordan, and the Rev. E. Vinson, of Texas, who will have charge of the Bible tour during the closing period.

In addition to these conferences, there will be the special work done for children, Camp Fire Girls, and for boys. Skilled instructors will be in charge of this duty.

The Ways of Thrift

A NATIONAL BUSINESS SUCCESS.

"God made the sea but the Hollander made the land," is an old Dutch proverb. More true this year than ever. National thrift has not only reclaimed a great part of the Zuyder Zee, that great shallow sea to the north, but has saved practically the whole area of Holland from the inroads of the sea and the overflow of the rivers. The reclaimed lands are intrinsically worth the high prices paid for them.

The windmills so prominent in Dutch paintings are finger posts which point to Dutch thrift. The rivers and canals which intersect them form a navigable network all over Holland which is unique in the world. "Thrift is good revenue."

Happiness is an inevitable result of true thrift, and the Dutch combine pleasure with theirs. They have made their skating areas and they are the best skaters in the world. They skate to business and to school, to market, to funerals, to social and church affairs.

The ocean is not the most treacherous and formidable foe of this little country, which is not only flat but hollow (hence its name—Holland). Great embankments or dykes, on whose flat surface carriage roads have been built, shut off the ocean, twenty-five feet at high tide above the level of the farms. But the rivers swollen by heavy rains and melting snow are much more dangerous. There are times every winter when men and women turn out and patrol the dykes.

There was a profit to Holland of billions of dollars in reclaiming that country from floods and swamps. In the United States there are great areas of swamps and lands subject to inundation.

In the evening at 8 o'clock, the Department of the Potomac, G. I. I. I. will hold its annual memorial service, to which the Women's Relief Corps, Sons and Daughters of Veterans, and all affiliated patriotic societies are united. Congressman S. D. Pess of Ohio will be the principal speaker at this celebration. His subject is entitled "The Religion of Lincoln."

Major David Still will conduct a memorial service at the Salvation Army Hall, 929 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, in memory of Major George Lyngs, Brig. William Escott will conduct a special service at the same place on Monday.

The Rev. Dr. Granger will preach at the Guntion Temple Memorial Presbyterian Church, Fourteenth and R streets northwest, at the two services tomorrow. The morning topic will be "Overcomers" and the evening topic "The Flag." At the evening service a mass will be presented to the church by the Sunday school. The service at night will conclude the evening services for the season.

The day following the formal opening of the American University by President Woodrow Wilson, May 27, the doors of the Biblical Museum in the university will also be thrown open for public inspection. Madame Lydia M. von Finkelstein Mountford will speak.

The Rev. W. R. Wedderburn, pastor of Foundry Methodist Episcopal Church will preach on "Fair-Play-With-God" tomorrow morning. In the evening there will be an address by Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn, the eldest daughter of the late General Booth. At the 11 o'clock service tomorrow the pastor of Hamilton Methodist Episcopal Church will preach on "The 'Our Shield' and will have for his text in the evening service at 8 o'clock, "From Galilee to Nazareth," being the subject of his series covering an itinerary of the Holy Land. This series will be continued each Sunday evening during May and June.

WILL SPEAK TWICE

"I Own Christ," Is the Title of His Morning Sermon. In the Evening His Topic Will Be "She Got Him Out of a Bad Place."

JUST A MOMENT

DAILY STRENGTH AND CHEER.
Compiled by John G. Quinlan, the Sunshine Man.

Visiting a poor, bed-ridden woman in one of our hospitals, I was greatly impressed with her Christian assurance. There was an almost superhuman confidence and composure with which she spoke of our good Father in heaven. They called her "Old Sunshine," because she seemed to be in a state of inner transfiguration, many beams of which suffused her outward life. I asked her, "But how do you know that God is your good Father?" She replied, "Does not a child know its father's voice?" The Voice itself taught me. I could not doubt it if I tried.

The man who has never suffered in the exception, but all men are commanded to hope. Hope is the daughter of Grief.—Eugene Bersier.

He who is not polite enough is not human enough.—Joubert.

No one can ever become quite solitary, quite poor, quite miserable, who truly can say, "Lord, if only I have Thee." That is just the time when God makes His consolation most gratifying and abundant, when we are through distress of body and soul have turned from all temporal things to Him, and have learned that royal, ever-shadowing "only Thee"—Theodore Christlieb, D. D.

If you would find the men that serve the best, the best must look for the men of the most faith.

How pleasant it is to know that our help is needed, and that should we withhold it, people would feel its loss. All human beings, can make themselves felt in the world. And how much more round and full their lives are, if they have tried to help and work for others.—Mary Louise Reichel.

When we reach the limit of knowledge, we stand on the shore of an untraversed ocean of faith.—Stuckenborg.

The drama of human life is one in which every man is an actor.

The sin that is scarcely able to stand alone today may outstep a race horse tomorrow.
